

Ogden Public Health Association Prepares For Xmas Seal Drive

Organization of the Ogden and Weber county branch of the Utah Public Health Association was practically completed last evening when a meeting of members was held in the David Eccles building, the president and executive committee being named.

George D. Bennett was chosen president and the following executive committee members chosen: Mrs. Ralph E. Bristol, Mrs. Douglas Watson, Mrs. E. C. Rich, E. S. Hinckley, Frank M. Briggs and J. U. Eldredge, Jr.

MEET FRIDAY. The committee will meet Friday noon at the Weber club rooms and will select the complete membership of the various committees that will assist in the Christmas seal drive.

Preparations for this campaign are already under way, the allotment for the Ogden organization being $2,000 and that for the state being $15,000. One year ago, there were sold in Ogden and Weber county, similar seals to the amount of $2,244.68.

Lodges, clubs, church organizations, business men and others will have representatives on the seal committees.

The exact details of the campaign will not be announced until after the Friday meeting. Selection of a secretary who can devote his or her entire time to supervision of the drive is proposed.

Dr. T. B. Beatty, state health commissioner was one of the speakers at the meeting last evening. He said that the survey in Ogden showed that there are 45 active cases of tuberculosis reported. A more complete canvass he said would probably reveal the total number to be between 100 and 150 cases. There are from 1,000 to 2,000 cases in the entire state. As the work of the Utah Public Health Association is largely devoted to the fighting of the "great white plague," the figures are considered of much importance, showing what Ogden must do in fighting tuberculosis in its own section.

This is made possible by the plan of the campaign, it was shown, for 95 per cent of the money raised through seal sales will be spent in Ogden, the remainder of five per cent being the total amount sent away for national funds.

FORMER GOVERNOR SPEAKS. Heber M. Wells, former governor of Utah, spoke regarding the difference between the funds raised by membership and those by seal sales. The membership plan is to secure as many as possible in the organization who will not only give financial but also moral support to the movement. Fifty per cent of these fees are sent to the national association, the figures being 50 per cent remaining for local and state work. However, the proportion on the seal sale activities is much heavier for local funds, being 95 per cent for use directly in the city and county.

A review of the health survey work carried on for several months in Ogden has been prepared by Miss Sophie L. Larson, the public health nurse. This shows that the health association work in Weber county has involved all kinds of sickness cases. Miss Larson has talked to many mothers' organizations and also to individuals regarding health work, has sought out cases of illness, in some instances has done bedside nursing and visited the physicians, looked after the needs of the stricken families and otherwise carried through a program of activities which involved visits to more than 100 families each month.

HEALTH BONDS. A new phase of the Christmas seal drive this year will be the sale of health "bonds" ranging in denomination from $5 to $100, each carrying ten coupons.

Each of these bonds is "secured by" the scientific research, organization and experience of the National Tuberculosis association and its affiliated state and local associations which guarantee the holder that the money it represents will be spent in community, state and nation, along the lines indicated in the coupons attached. The coupons read thus:

THE PROGRAM. The campaign against tuberculosis will further organize community effort to control tuberculosis by securing adequate legislation and all other provision needed.

Will aim to educate all communities by literature, exhibits, lectures and publicity regarding the nature, treatment and prevention of tuberculosis.

Will seek, by the introduction of the modern health crusade to train all school children in correct health habits.

Will seek to provide enough more sanatorium and hospital beds to accommodate every consumptive needing such care.

Will seek to follow up cases discharged from sanatoria to prevent relapses and provide suitable occupation for arrested cases.

Will provide, where possible, dispensaries and consulting experts to assist physicians in the discovery of early and suspected cases of tuberculosis.

Will aim to provide public health nurses with a knowledge of tuberculosis in every community to give proper home care and instruction in all cases needing it.

Will endeavor to establish open air schools or fresh air classes and preventorium for all children needing such special care.

Will continue to urge the importance of a thorough physical examination of all school children for tuberculosis and other physical defects.

Will endeavor to persuade employers of labor of periodical medical examination as a means of health conservation.

WHERE FOR SALE. The bonds can be obtained from the various committees in connection with the campaign against tuberculosis. The $5 certificates has a value of 500 Christmas seals and represents a subscription of that amount to the cause. Higher denominations vary an additional number of seals.

NOTICE. Hereafter we will not be responsible for any debts contracted except by ourselves.

Announcement was made yesterday at a meeting of the state road commission in Salt Lake, that the P. J. Moran company will complete the North Washington pavement, from the Ogden river bridge to the north city limits, in about ten days, unless storms intervene.

The F. E. Phelps Construction company is permitted to leave the gravel shoulders on one road being completed by it north of Ogden in unfinished condition until spring, when they will be trimmed into shape.

Former Ogden Man Prohibition Chief

Lorenzo Richards of Ogden was appointed chief prohibition director for the state of Utah at Washington yesterday, upon recommendation of Senator King. He will take the vacancy caused by the resignation of Mathias Thomas tendered at the time that he was making his campaign for election to congress.

Richards is expected to take up his new duties at once. His term, it is reported, will probably be short, as it is expected that the prohibition service will be completely reorganized after March 4, when Republicans will displace Democrats appointed by the present administration.

Richards was active in campaign work both in Salt Lake and Weber county during the recent campaign.

CITY LOSES IN SMALLEY CASE

Supreme Court Affirms Industrial Commission Award; About $2500

The supreme court of Utah has just handed down its decision in the case of Ogden City vs. Industrial Commission of Utah, wherein Ogden City appealed from the award made in favor of Mrs. Alice Smalley, for the death of her son, Albert G. Smalley, on April 7th, 1920.

Young Smalley was employed as a special motorcycle policeman, and while on his way to the Sanitarium, November 8th, 1919, in search of a stolen automobile, he came in collision with a car coming toward him at the sharp curve on the Ogden canyon road this side of the Sanitarium and sustained serious injuries. He was taken to the Dee hospital, where he died several months later.

Claim for compensation was presented to the board by Attorneys Chee and Barker for the parents, and a hearing was had last June. On September 9th, 1920, the Industrial Commission awarded Mrs. Smalley compensation in the sum of $1442.50, together with hospital, doctor bills and funeral expenses, amounting in all to about $2,500 from which award Ogden City appealed to the supreme court.

In the decision just filed, the supreme court affirms the award with costs against Ogden City, and in its decision rendered by Justice Weber says:

"The law should be liberally construed in favor of the injured workman and his dependents, and when there is any doubt respecting the right to compensation, the doubt should be resolved in favor of the employee, or his dependents, as the case may be."

"Complaint is made by Ogden city that no credit was given by the Commission for payment of salary made to deceased from date of his injury to his death. These payments were made wholly as salary, and not as compensation. The award dates from the date of his death and not from the date of his injury. Therefore, in making an award because of the death, it was proper not to credit Ogden City with any amount that was paid to the injured employee as salary."

The award of the Commission is therefore affirmed with costs."

City Prisoners to Dine Well Tomorrow

"Scotty" Rankin, chef at the city jail, is in his glory.

"Scotty" is busily preparing a sumptuous Thanksgiving day repast for inmates of the city jail, and for the past two days has been baking pies, arranging salads, and making general preparations for his big event.

A huge roast of pork, sufficient to serve all the city's boarders, is all ready to be tucked into the oven. Celery has already been prepared for the table, and is now merely awaiting being served. The big dinner will be served at noon tomorrow.

"Scotty" has practically every Thanksgiving dainty excepting turkey on his menu, and some of these include corn fritters, mashed potatoes, brown gravy, sweet potatoes, oyster dressing, celery, apples, vegetable soup, and a quantity of other dishes.

One of the trustees who was assisting "Scotty" today in preparing his feast said, "It will surely be different and it might make some of 'em sick. They just won't be able to stand it after having bread and mush for breakfast, bread and beans for dinner and bread and stew for supper, with bread and rice substituted for any of the meals."

Reach Decision on Entrance of Sheep

Decision was made yesterday by the state livestock board, following a conference between Dr. H. M. Rowe of Ogden, and William Fitzpatrick of Montrose, Colo., with regard to permitting the entry of sheep from Colorado into Utah, in spite of the quarantine for scab, that the sheep might enter when they had obtained clearance from the Colorado office of the United States bureau of animal industry.

The owners declared the sheep are clean and have not been exposed, but the livestock board asserted that these were circumstances of which the officials in Colorado would have more knowledge than the Utah board.

Special Thanksgiving day program at the Cozy tomorrow. Open at 12 o'clock. Charlie Chaplin in "A Day's Pleasure"; "A Son of the North," Latest News and "The Lost City." Admission 10c and 15c.
